Case study

Paragon Skills currently deliver Health & Social Care Levels 2-5 and Leadership and Management Levels 2-5 to the Tricuro workforce which consists of 1,500 colleagues.

Since November 2019, Tricuro have chosen Paragon Skills to be the primary apprenticeship provider. During the past year the apprenticeship scheme has grown from just 8 apprentices to 74, with growth continuing every month that goes by.

The reason for this growth is primarily down to word of mouth between the various service business units. It is also due to the fantastic working relationships Paragon Skills have formed with Tricuro employees.

In the coming months we are excited to see our learners starting to approach their end-point assessment, and intend to roll out activity to celebrate the success of all apprentices to recognise those who have completed a programme, and those who are still working through theirs. I look forward to the continued growth with Paragon Skills and developing our relationship.
